EBAss wishes to stimulate professional personnel exchange and intellectual reflection aiming toward the promotion and improvement of continuous education.

EBAss therefore promotes a program of personnel exchange between hyperbaric centres in Europe. This program, aimed exclusively to personnel other than doctors, will allow the participants (members of EBAss) to observe procedures, methods and treatment protocols of another hyperbaric centre during a short period (typically, 3-5 days).

An EBAss member wishing to enroll in this programme should contact EBAss stating which facility they are interested in visiting; initial contact with the hyperbaric facility will then be made by EBAss.

When the member visits the facility they will be there as an observer only; they will not be employed as part of the work process however they will be expected to abide by that facilities rules and must at all times act in a professional manner. Once the visit is complete the member will be required to write a report of his/her activities during the exchange, this can then be used as an article for inclusion in EBAss News; the format of this report will be provided by EBAss.

Hyperbaric facilities interested in hosting exchange visits by personnel should contact EBAss in order for compilation of a list of interested facilities.

EBAss will contribute to the cost of travel between the accepted members home facility and the chosen exchange facility; the EBAss contribution will not exceed €300 on presentation of invoice.

EBAss will always form the link between the participating member and the facility chosen; EBAss will be responsible for gaining approval of the medical director(s) of the chosen facility.

Participation in this scheme will not incur any financial cost for the chosen hyperbaric facility. The EBAss exchange personnel will be considered as "super-numery" to the facility; they will be an observer only and he/she will not be requested to perform ANY specific task in relation to the daily workload performed by the chosen centre.

The responsible person dealing with the EBAss exchange programme within EBAss is Ms GEELS, Judith, of the Hyperbaric Centre of Amsterdam (The Netherlands).
